

Race and Ethnicity: Incorporating History, Society and Genetics to Improve Human Health

Sponsored by the Lincoln Center for Applied Ethics and the ASU Center for Evolution & Medicine

Friday, March 23, 2018

9am-1pm | LSC 202 | Tempe Campus

Open to the public

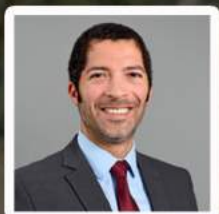

Registration deadline: Wednesday, March 21

<http://links.asu.edu/LCAE-CEM>

Featured Speakers:

Melissa A. Wilson Sayres
Center for Evolution and Medicine
School of Life Sciences

Matthew Delmont
School of Historical, Philosophical & Religious Studies

Jaqueline Wernimont
Department of English

Johnny Kung
Director of New Initiatives
Personal Genetics Education
Project, Harvard University